A YEAR OF CHANGE

The 1963-64 school year will hereafter be known as the year of the new beat! We have witnessed a startling change at G.M. This year we have seen the beginning of a new beat. Call it a beat, call it a trend, a change of attitude or a new way of thinking. The new wing is part of it, new report cards, a new gym floor, and new teachers. Behind it all is Mr. Worley's dynamic administration with a new respect for the individual student, a new student-faculty relationship. This year we are all much closer to a true understanding of why we are here and where we are going.

Seniors singing on the Hill,
Sound of laugher,
Push of crowded cafeteria
And clatter of trays.
Slamming of lockers,
Scratching of pens,
Echoing of Mr. Worley's heels down the halls,
Beating of feet in between classes,
Patter of stocking feet on the gym floor.
Blur of faces running for buses.
A spirit,
A new beat.
1964

A SUBTLE BLENDING . . .

This is a year of a new beat at George Mason, but all is not new. George Mason is now a subtle blend of many new things with things of the past. We can not forget the old, for upon those old things new things are founded. We must remember G. M.'s record of achievement, athletic and academic. We must strive to further this record, while at the same time initiating the new, the different, creating and expanding, singing new songs and pounding out new beats.

CLASS REPRESENTATIVE
Clayton Baum

ALFRED AKERMAN
Al

Alfred has a very distinctive laugh and a knack for coming up with numerous puns and good jokes and will be remembered for his tennis skill, telescopes, and his giraffe-like style of running cross-country.

WILLIAM ALBAUGH
Scratch

Bill has a carefree reputation, and a carefree motor scooter to match. When he is not prowling about on his scooter, he's absorbed in his science fiction for which he has a craving.

MARGARET E. ANDERSON
Peggy

Peggy has aided the Pep Club in its activities and has been varsity manager of the cheerleaders. She often wears blue, perhaps a reminiscent gesture; remember the rain at Ocean City last summer?

THOMAS APPELL
Tom

Hailing originally from Washington and Lee, Tom joined G.M.'s Junior Class and in the best G.M. tradition, immediately joined the '62 Mustangs. An excellent back, Tom chalked up an outstanding two season record.

ROSS E. ARMSTRONG
Ross

Ross faces the hard life as a George Mason student like a true stoic. He courageously and quietly takes notes in class and spends his free time reading in the G.M. library. Ross excels as first clarinetist in the band and in drag racing in his Volkswagon on weekends.

SHARON LOUISE BAILEY
Sharon

Sharon will be remembered by her fellow cheerleaders as "the organizer". She has long and willowy eyelashes, loves to dance the Bird, and is in favor of all social activities. Sharon is a terrific singer, (especially in Spanish.) Her exuberant enthusiasm has added zip and chaos to our senior year.

JAMES CLAYTON BAUM
Clayton

Clayton, besides being the illustrious Senior Class Representative, is known as one of its most skillful operators in the art of getting A's. He is especially good at acting in Mrs. Disney's Shaw and Miller productions and scratching records with phonograph needles. When he graduates, he plans to follow in Mr. Brown's footsteps.

SHIRLEY WEST BENNETT Shirley

Shirley is a feminine, petite girl who quietly slips through the halls of G.M. leaving the image of a sweet spirit. She lived in Japan for several years and still delights in telling people her experiences there.

LANCE S. BENSON
Lanny

Lanny has gained notoriety among the G.M. faculty for his handwriting, which only Mrs. Delaney and Mrs. Disney are able to read. He will also be remembered for his plea in Government, "Mumble a little louder, please, Mr. McBlair". Lanny buys ice cream sandwiches for seniors in 5C lunch, continually collects money for National Honor Society members, and is number 1 in the Chess Club, even though he professes to play for lack of better things to do.

PATRICIA RAYE BIONDI
Pat

Known for her excess of school spirit, (she always puts up the welcome signs) Pat has a vivacious personality and has contributed much to the activities of the Pep Club; she is known for being first to turn in her work.

ROIE ROBERT BLACK Roie

Roie seems more interested in tending to audio-visual equipment, in building model airplanes, and in working in the shop, than in dropping "tidbits of intellectualism". Roie will someday represent the aircraft industry in a Senate hearing and tell why there should be no $1.75 minimum wage.

FREDERICK N. BOLAND
Fred

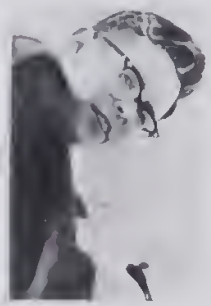
Fred's pet projects are photography and pin-ups. His pet peeve is trigonomentry, although he gets along great with squares in plane geometry. He is also known for writing incomprehensible English poems and trying to avoid the yearbook staff.

SARA ELIZABETH BOLTON
Sally

Sally is a carefree, happy, and outgoing girl. Besides the Bolton's continual openhouse, Sally will be remembered as being the cheerleaders' good-will ambassador and for pepping up the Pep Club.

CAROLYN ELIZABETH BRENNAN
Carolyn

Quiet and artistic, Carolyn should be given credit for achieving the bouncy flip that she has managed to keep perfect for three years, always three inches from her head.



KATHLEEN CAVANAUGH
Kathy

Kathy's trademarks are her red hair and her purple fingernail. "Mostly" she uses a lot of "quaint" phrases. She has a temper to match her Irish background and red hair, but fortunately she is usually laughing. We'll never forget the help she gave the Great Pumpkin Black and Orange Day.

SUVANNEE CHITRANUKROH
Susie

The students of GM will long remember petite and smiling Susie, our foreign exchange student from Thailand, not only as a part of the AFS program, but as a whiz in physics and trig and for her skill at shooting rubber bands at boys.

MARY DIANE CLARK
Diane

Diane has made her mark in FTA this year as secretary, and has worked hard toward someday becoming a teacher. She has also distinguished herself as being the only person to break Judy Ingalls' straight record as secretary of the class and for her ability to get out of class (especially on Mondays).

SYDNEY M. CLEWLOW
Syd

Syd is a creative soul who likes to work in Senior Dramatics on lighting, write descriptive short stories, and grumble in English class. He has a yen to travel in his white M-G, especially across the Potomac to historic Georgetown.

MICHAEL A. COMER
Mike

Dedicated to the art of football, Mike is well-known for his ability on the grid. He has played guard for a number of years, and has contributed several arms and legs to the Mustang cause.

DOUGLAS A. CONNER
Doug

Doug seems to have two main interests- Russian and photography. He likes to write cryptic messages on the blackboard, known only to Khrushchev and himself, get into games free by carrying his camera, and catch up on his sleep during sixth period.

MARIAN ELIZABETH COSTNER Marian

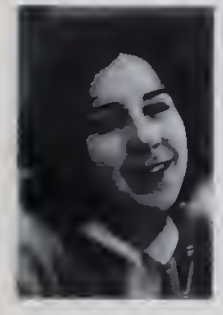
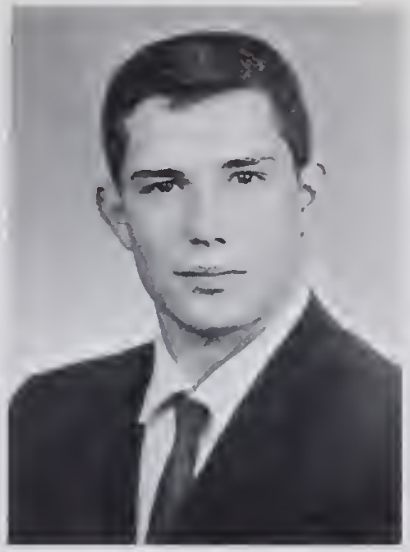
Friendly, outgoing, enthusiastic, Marian has shown a great interest in school affairs. She is an excellent dancer, especially at the Monkey and the Bird.



TERRY NELSON COX

Terry

Terry's "Best Looking" comes not only from her fresh appearance, but from her vitality and flashing smile. As Junior Class president she guided us in collecting unheard-of sums of money from the many activities she planned.



HUGH CRUMPLER

Hugh

The friendly "Flying Ape" is well known in the Senior Class for his usual "Hello" to everyone and for his varsity jacket, his constant companion; makes a good telephone directory, doesn't it, Hugh?

DONNA LURENE CULBERTSON

Donna

Most people can tell Donna and her twin Karen apart, but their English teachers apparently weren't able to. Donna herself likes to talk, and she has a distinctive laugh that is known throughout the halls of George Mason. After graduation she wants to go to business school.

KAREN LOUISA CULBERTSON
Karen

Karen is an outgoing individual who likes to buzz around in her little black car and go to the library every night. She and her twin delight in fooling English teachers by switching places. Her own great ambition is to go to a college with a 13 to 1 ratio.

WALKER ALLYN DAVIS
Allyn

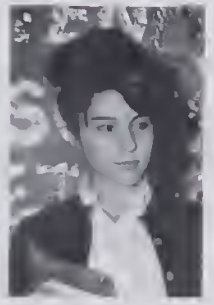
Carefree Allyn leads a life of impluse and whim. She has a natural wit with which she entertains anyone near her by continuously talking and talking and talking. Allyn may well be best known for her distinction of being late for school.

MARY ANN EARMAN
Mary Ann

Mary Ann always seems happy; she is opinionated and enjoys a lively conversation. O'Connell's loss, G.M.'s gain, particularly in the majorette department.

JOHN EBERT
John

John has accumulated renown in athletics and as a suave lady's man. Even though he's a bad shot in basketball, he is captain of the team. With his wit and flashing blue eyes, John has quite a following.



LINDA LOU EDWARDS
Linda

Long blond ringlets...short, short skirts...twirling baton in front of the band...trying to sell pennants as Pep Club President...not easily intimidated by her teachers... stapling for Dr. G...Linda.

KATHLEEN CLAUDETTE EUBANK
Claudette

Claudette was missed during her 2 month "vacation" at the beginning of the year, but she returned just as vivacious and sweet as ever. Known for her green eyeshadow, she has worked in FNA to try to realize her ambition of being a nurse.

JEAN W. FARRAGUT
Gigi

Queen Gloriana XII, a name by which she has been known on past occasions, presents a chic and sophisticated image. Gigi's dramatic and artist talents will be difficult to duplicate.

JOHN JORDAN FINLEY
John

This fearless Lasso editor has musical talents as well; his Brubeck playing is excellent. He debates and wiggles his double-jointed knuckles with poise when he is not hissing the Mustang staff and Mr. McBlair, arguing with Mrs. Disney about hidden meanings in Joyce, or strutting in front of the marching band. He will also be remembered for his very collegiate dress and the type-cast part he played in "The Mouse That Roared.

LLOYD A. M. GALKIN
Lloyd

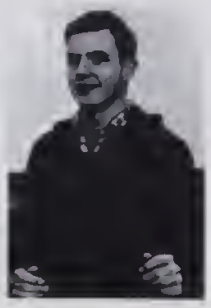
Lloyd is the Machiavellian dictator of the National Honor Society (having picked all its officers), and of the Math Analysis Class, ("Mr. Rockwell, I believe we should have two more sections for homework tonight.") Playing chess with the mind of a true calculator, and without ever doing any homework, he still manages to come up with A's; Lloyd emanates a mysterious effect reminiscent of Mad magazine's "Spy vs. Spy" series.

MARY MAXENE GALKIN
Maxene

An individualist with long black hair and an aristocratic air, Max is known for her love of ukeleles and cats, and her loathing for math and Beckett plays. Maxene is also noted for eating in Government groups, for her "excellent and magnifique" French accent, and for her habitual way of thinking that she has failed her test and then coming out with a blase "What do you know; I got an A+."

LORETTA J. GARITY
Lorry

When you hear a lively "Hellooo" coming down the hall, it's probably Lorry giving her traditional greeting. Vivacious, friendly, sparking the Pep Club, sewing her fingernail in the Home Ec sewing machine, that's Lorry.



JOSEPH WILLIAM GIBBONS
Joe

It is not known whether Friar Tuck of Robin Hood fame was quiet and had short blond hair, but Joe seems to think he did. When he is not riding around Sherwood Forest, Joe works at interpreting Chaucer's Pilgrims.

SUSAN HOWARD GRAHAM
Susan

Susan, distinguished by her tall black boots and poncho, is usually found handing out "chuckle" and "protest" buttons to fellow classmates, and drawing grotesque hands on the blackboard. Never without her spirited good humor and her Dristan bottle, she has made a career at GM in the Pep Club. As Mustang Sports Editor she became a familiar and feared figure at sports practices, always begging to be allowed to take pictures.

VICTORIA ANN GRANT
Vicki

Vicki is a serious girl who works hard at ice skating and taking pictures for the Mustang. As Club Editor, she enjoyed the hours begging club members to show up for their pictures. She is continually hoping that Coach will turn the gym into an ice rink, and, knowing Vicki, maybe he will. Vicki is also a fullfledged member of the VMI Club.

ELIZABETH ANNE GRESS
Betsy

Betsy can be intensely serious and quiet at one time, and giggling and animated at another. She has an avid interest in riding horses, in painting and drawing, and in working as a Candy Striper. Betsy, often squeamish about bugs and spiders and such, has a strong tendency to blush (remember Mr. McGee's 9th grade history class.)

JUDY ANN GRUBB
Judy

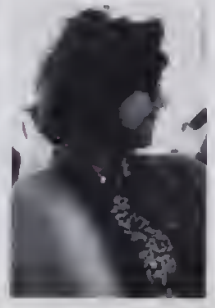
The Senior Class will always be "indebted" to our "money woman". No one else could have maintained the treasury in good order and still remained sane. (Watch her buy a new car for graduation.) If you ever want to find Judy, just look in the chemistry lab where she is busily working.

RICK WAYNE GUTHRIDGE
Rick

Rick—friendly, a familiar sight at basketball games rubbing down a player with a towel or running for ice; also famous for locking the cross-country team out of the locker room.

JAMES RICHARD HAASE
Jim

Jimmy is quite serious about his interests-especially his church group. At GM he is known as one of the class's most liberal minded members. (He even sits with underclassmen at lunch!)



JANA SUE HAHN

Jana

Jana, known as Hahnus to select friends, is a natural comic who has shown off her talents as a comedienne in two Senior Dramatics plays. The Senior girls will long remember her coaching in the Jr. Variey Show opening number (1, 2, 3, 4, S, 6; 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6). Jana has been active in Keyettes (having had herself unanimously elected historian), and endured the wrath of Mr. Brown on Maid and Butler Day.

DIANE HANAK

Diane

Dividing her interests between math and music, Diane spends half of her time solving physics problems and the other half listening to her collection of polkas. She occasionally disrupts this schedule to practice her driving, much to the disparagement of the neighborhood.

JAY MARTIN HANKE

Jay

Jay is usually serious, determined and quiet, except when he's blowing his trumpet in the Band. He is musically adept- a Choir member for several years, Band President, and a member of Tri-M. One of the most striking recollections of his high school career, perhaps, was his kick in the pants from Mr. Brown.

ANN L. HASTIE
Ann
Ann is a quiet and persevering girl who has worked hard as a soprano in the Choir. Her "distinctive" penmanship has gained a reputation of its own among the faculty.

GAIL EILEEN HEETER
Gail
Gail and her O'Connell letter sweater seem to be quite inseparable these days. She is a good talker and keeps up a running conversation with her friends about everything from sewing to the operation of the school store.

JUDITH ANN HERNDON
Judy
Judy is a very friendly girl who always has a flashing smile for everyone. She is involved in a myriad of activities, including being President of the Keyette and Spanish Clubs. She is known as the prettiest tenor in the GM Choir.

KATHERINE ANN HIDALGO
Ann
Usually seen with a big purse and dark glasses, Ann is a girl who is crazy about Texas and about boys named John. She will be long remembered for her purple feet.

RICHARD HOWARD HOFFMAN
Ricky

Ricky is truly an individualist and a carefree boy who likes to draw caricatures of teachers, give wild parties, rebel against "the system", and read racing forms (which he prefers to the Washington Post for government).

GEORGE HOOPER
George

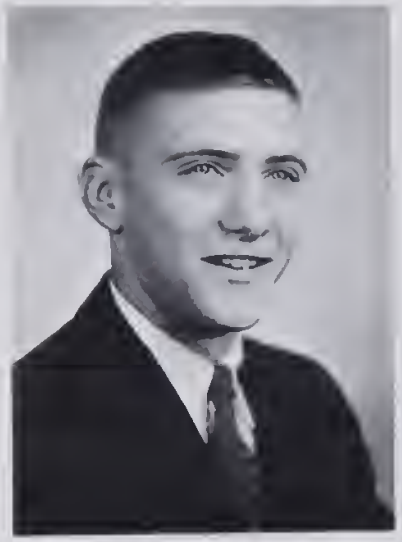
George is new to GM this year, which is probably why he is still perennially cheery and goodnatured. In addition to the acclaim he received for his acting the part of the President, George has probably set a record in the accumulation of brownie points and will be happy to figure out the total for interested parties on his handy physics slide-rule.

JOSEPH C. HORSTKAMP
Joe

Joe's reserved manner can perhaps be attributed to the unfortunate displacement of vital interest to Germany. Her place has partially been filled, however, by a '50 Ford that he continues to try to run.

NANCY ELIZABETH HOUSEMAN
Nancy

The only term for Nancy is easy-going. Besides being the slowest walker in GM, Nancy has a positive fascination for the word "fascinating." Nancy spends half her day at school and the other half at 7 Corners. One of her favorite hobbies is arguing with math teachers, since she has very definite opinions, especially on the use of radians and exponents (they're quite controversial, you know).



ALBERT WALLACE HOVEY-KING
Chip

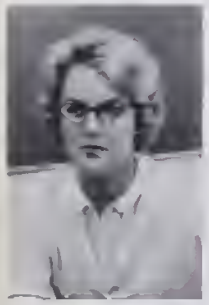
Chip is the very friendly and easy-going boy who has a greeting for everyone and many strong interests. He can usually be found discussing the Manassas stock car races with a friend, drawing a complex architectural plan, working on a Hi-Y project, or practicing track.

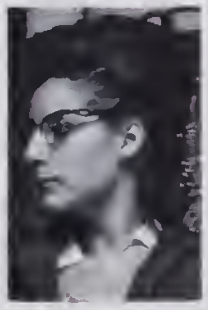
JUDITH ANN INGALLS
Judy

Judy is a smiling lass who is particular about working hard on whatever project she is absorbed in at the moment: working as FTA President, or in class activities. She holds a record in the number of years as class secretary.

MARY ANN JOHNSON
Mary Ann

Mary Ann-easy-going, quiet... sometimes very funny... military schools and banks... maybe secretary...





TERRY LEE JOHNSON
Terry

Terry is an extremely efficient and diligent worker, and a vivacious talker who often complains about Trig. Mr. Brown delights in making Terry blush during class. ("Turn red, Terry").

JANICE ELLEN JOHNSTON
Janice

Janice is outgoing: she's either pleading with Seniors to turn in their picture proofs, acting in a play, singing "Where is Thumper" or bubbling over with a greeting in the hall. She will be remembered for her hard work on the Variety Show and also as Mrs. Disney's "ray of sunshine."

BRYAN K. JONES
Barney

Barney was voted Wittiest Boy in the Senior Class. He is a free soul seemingly without any cares who is in the habit of coming up with absolutely "brilliant" comments in class. He loves to dance without any shoes on and yell at basketball games for people that aren't even on the team.

PAUL R. JONES
Paul

The Great P. R. will be remembered for his skill at reading PA announcements, his stage act with the potted plant, and his talent for spouting puns and saying words backwards. Debating medicare, studying the life spans of bacteria, and playing the trombone occupy the greater part of Paul's time.

DONALD M. KAIN
Don

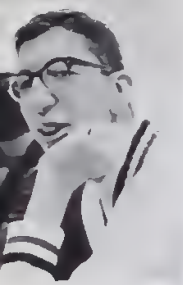
Don came to join the class of '64 from Wakefield. Here he is known as a generally quiet and reserved boy who likes to tell colorful jokes in his Government group.

ROBERT L. KAPLAN
Bob

Quiet...reserved...a fast track man...likes the girls at JEB Stuart...Ed Sullivan...That's Bob.

CAROL ANNE KLEIN
Carol

Carol's head of flaming red hair makes her stand out anywhere she goes. A member of the "anti-homework club," she is a gregarious and friendly sort who likes to talk constantly—even during government lectures. As chairman of the 1963 Sweetheart Dance, she made a major contribution to the class.

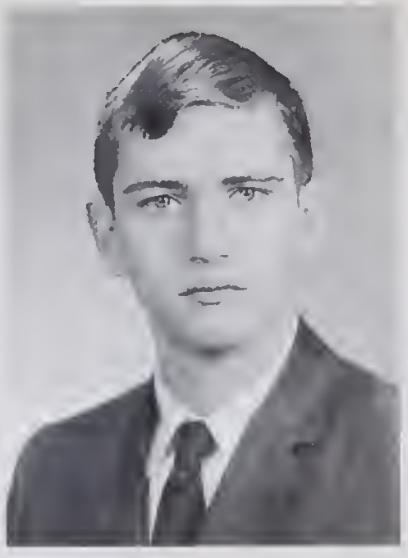


LOUIS KURITZKY
Louie

Unless you are a very short member of the student body, you have surely seen among the standing seniors at our assemblies, one, particularly tall one, high above the others, one known as Louis Kuritzky. Yet to be defeated by love, in tennis that is, Louis has gained renown for his witty observations, puns, and excellent driving habits.

JANE MARIE LAMB
Jane

Jane is a quiet girl who has a unbelievable supply of determination, as her A average testifies. She is also known for her school spirit: she never misses a game. She is famous for her skillful sewing and her precise handwriting. It often unnerves her teachers to have a student whose handwriting is legible.



ROBERT N. LAURIAULT
Robin

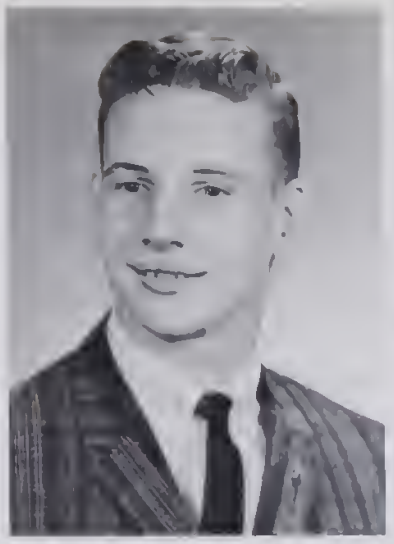
Robin is a non-conforming individual who prefers drawing maps of counties of Florida and graphing his periods of depression to taking notes in government. Robin will be remembered for his loathing of algebra, his citrus groves, his great "skill" at cross country, his enormous output as literary editor of the Mustang, his rat imitation, and liking for penguins.

GLENN WAYNE LETHAM
Glenn

Remembered as our first Halloween baby, Glenn also has a talent for tennis and one-way streets. His favorite teachers include Mrs. Rooney and Mr. Brown.

DOUGLAS ALLEN LIND
Doug

The school has "chug-a-lugged with Doug and Tug" with great vigor under Doug's SCA leadership. He is known for his UNIVAC-like mind, his Periodical Conic Functions, magic tricks, white tennis shoes, bowling prowess, talents as a TV performer, and the introduction of math to literary criticism. His mottos include "History is Bunk" and "Quite" (from his premier stage appearance with plaid tie and briefcase).

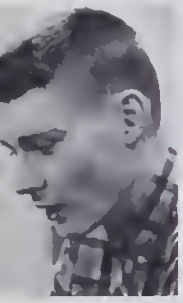


CHARLES EDWARD MAHAFFEY
Ed

ED MAHAFFEY plays the DRUMS in the Mustang band. He also wears WILD SHIRTS, and keeps the younger members of the Band on their toes. Ed will be remembered as being friendly and LOUD.

WILBERT B. MAHONEY
Wilbert

A gentleman who prefers blondes, Wilbert also enjoys playing chess in the library, story writing, and Camus.



JOSEPH THOMAS MALONEY
Joe
"Lighting" is a carefree and talkative boy who zips in and out of the yearbook room everyday, advising everyone, helping the Sports section in name only. He will be remembered for his impressive blue-print of the school.

SUSAN CAROL MANLY
Susan
Susan is well-known, but perhaps not so much so as her truck. She possesses, aside from the aforementioned vehicle, a sweet disposition, a good sense of humor, and and artistic talent.

CHARLES JOSEPH MASON
Charlie
Charlie, big and good-natured, operates a veritable bus service, giving his various buddies rides to and from school, easy enough as he reported to have seven cars in various states of disrepair. Charlie is active in Hi-Y as Sergeant-at-arms. (Wonder why the meetings are always so tranquil?)

MARY SUSAN MAXWELL
Sue

Miss Pink is in a constant turmoil concerning her personal affairs, but she does find time occasionally to carry the banner for the majorettes and to serve as an enthusiastic member of the Pep Club.

ELIZABETH McDOWELL
Liz

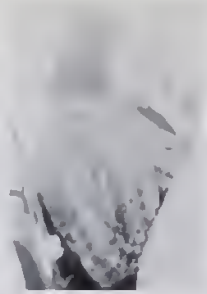
Liz has distinguished herself by fluting in the band for 6 years and for heading the Art Committee. She is also known as the continually good-natured girl in the genuine tartan. The 6th Period French class will remember her for her ability to keep on Monsieur Condit's better side.

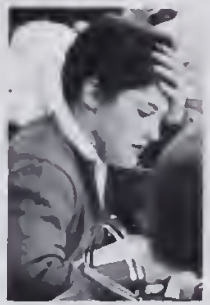
TODD McNAB
Buckshot

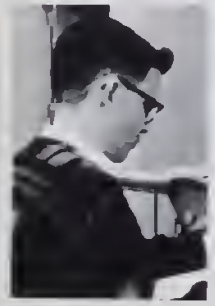
GM will remember Buckshot as one of its biggest football and baseball heros, and the Senior girls will remember him as Best Looking Boy. As a migrant worker, Todd astounded Government classes by announcing that he was 25 and already had 13 kids.

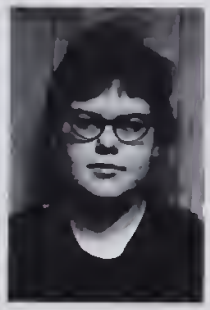
JAMES LAWRENCE McQUARY
Jamie

Jamie, as he is called, is rather carefree, friendly, and a natural comic. Seen usually in the latest collegiate pin-stripe shirt, he is known for his football playing, and his skill at dancing the Bird. In addition, he scored a Senior Class first by his original use of a biography in his term paper.









MARY LOUISE McQUILLAN
Mary Lou

Mary Lou presents the image of a fragile China doll, pretty and feminine. Her greatest love is football, and she is probably the most devoted fan Coach Crain will ever have.

ANNE PRESTON MIDDLETON
Anne

Calm and very collected...always a smile on her face...palling around with Peggy...studious and concerned about her school work and grades...green bows in hair is Anne.

WILLIAM WALTER MILLAN
Bill

A close observation of the personality of the ubiquitous Mr. Millan reveals to the observer an undeniable quality of intellectual sophistication and an added quality of confidence which serves to lend an air of out-spokenness, sometimes "wrongly" interpreted as conceit. Nevertheless, we shall all remember fondly Mr. Millan's occasional contributions of "valuable" pieces of information and his admirable attempts to set up a traffic committee.

MARJORIE G. MITCHELL
Marji

Greeting everyone with a wink, Margie is a creative and independent soul who gives an aristocratic and cultured impression with her grace and charm. She has made her mark as Tri-Hi-Y President, as a model, and as an excellent hostess at her many parties.

KATHLEEN MODINE
Kathleen

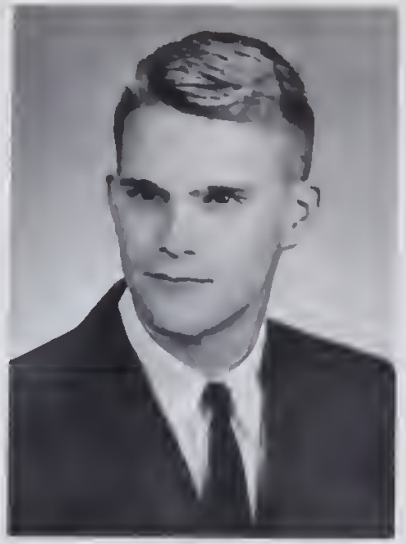
Cheery, bright, and talkative, Kathleen is famed for her love of culottes (for a short time she lived in dred of an office decree outlawing these garments). She enjoys working on the various Pep Club projects and is now a cheerleader.

MARJORIE G. MITCHELL
Marji

Greeting everyone with a wink, Margie is a creative and independent soul who gives an aristocratic and cultured impression with her grace and charm. She has made her mark as Tri-Hi-Y President, as a model, and as an excellent hostess at her many parties.

KATHLEENE ANNE MULCAHY
Kathy

Kathy is a girl of the world, having spent many years overseas. Kathy is noted for having to cut out words in an essay while the rest of us struggle to meet the minimum. She is always ready to debate and is an expert in the arts of talking and presiding over Senates.



WILLIAM PAUL NICHOLSON
Bill

"Well, what's the minimum wage for farming an hour?...a knack for coming up with unrelated and confusing questions in class... friendly...a unique style of driving...President of the Hi-Y... fond memories of being sent by Mrs. Costa into the small adjoining room off the bedroom...Bill.

JANET ANNE NIXON
Janet

One of the younger members of the class...bubbling over into her contagious laugh...a basketball player who is usually sitting down on the gym floor...lifeguarding... a twosome in the halls...Janet.

JOAN ELIZABETH NUGENT

Quiet, sweet...silent in class, Joan...then the bell rings...she has so much to say!!..."an unpolished diamond"...Joan Nugent.

DONNA MARIA O'NEALE
Donna

The oldest in a large family... choir and Massanetta...a collection of rings through her high school years...an interest in other people...Donna.

LAUREL B. OVERBY
Laurie

Valedictorian of her class, President of N.H.S., and National Merit Semi-finalist, Laurie "has a tendency to do well in her studies." But we shall also remember her for her special talent at doing imitations, (especially of English teachers). We of the Mustang Staff will remember "the penguin" as the "excitable" one of the two co-editors and for her furious exclamation: "I refuse to blush!"

JAMES M. OWENDOFF
Jim

Tall and friendly, Jim is a sensible boy who approaches everything in a logical way, whether it be the math and science at which he excels, playing basketball, or whipping up his party to vote for medicare.

PRISCILLA LOUISE PETERSON
Priscilla

Priscilla has a warm, friendly personality and will be remembered for her uncanny ability for sending usually well-balanced teachers into frenzied, incoherent speeches of explanation which, maddeningly, are all in vain. Even though her spelling may be a little off, Priscilla has a definite concept of what the English language is for-socializing!

GEORGE JOSEPH PHILLIPS
George

The Senior Class owes George ("Orgy") much. He has contributed to all of the activities we have had. He lettered in baseball and is a critic of the Mustang sports section. By being himself, he has added much to the friendly atmosphere of our class.

PARRY PIERCE
Parry

Parry is the calm one of the Mustang co-editors. She confidently and quietly meets the momentous crises continually arising. As Mustang Business Manager in her junior year, she scored a GM first by actually coming up with a $1100 profit on yearbook sales. She stays up until all hours of the night reading and also likes to cut her hair on a whim.

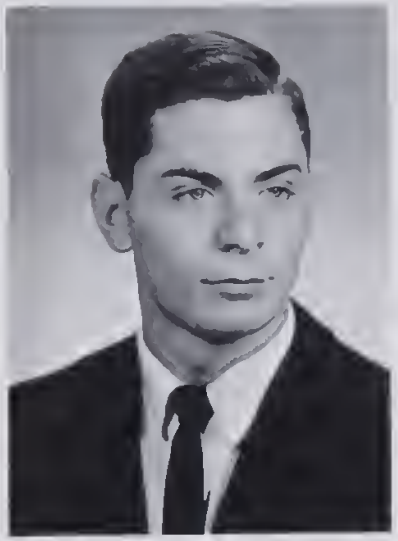
Ken

Kenny is a member of a small group of loyal Southerners who still hold dear the principles of the glorious Southland. Consequently he makes frequent escapes to Norfolk, and when here is content to listen to the "joyous tidings" of Dave Gardner. Kenny has a lively interest in electronics and enjoys listening to the slanted reports of Radio Moscow.

PHILLIP C. QUAM
Phil
It's too late, Phil, that was due two weeks ago", ...Beckie... hunting..."who stole my car?!?"... Ocean City is WILD!!... gay, carefree.



WALTER N. RANKIN
Walter
Walter, entirely an extrovert, is frank and very opinionated. He has a propensity for teasing people (especially girls). He is often heard to exclaim, "Aw, your mother wears combat boots!"

KATHLEEN MARIE RICK
Kathy
Voted "Best All Around", Kathy was considered to the superlative member of our Senior Class. She possesses a vivacious personality, is exceedingly witty and is also distinguished by her brilliant red hair.

REBECCA RUTH RILEY
Beckie
In addition to her good looks Beckie is popular with GM students because of her sincerity and genuine interest in other people. She is a hard worker: whether planning a project for Keyettes, working on her school work, sewing a new dress, or looking beautiful as 1963 Homecoming Queen.

TERESA 1. ROBERTS

Teresa

Teresa is a quiet member of the Senior Class, a petite girl-(usually seen with her shirttails out) the sensible and stolid type. She claims to like Government, even though Mr. Cormier makes her blush. Her friends say that she leads a double life and is quite a different person out of school.

JOSEPH LYNN ROBEY

Joe

Joe is known as the likable sort, a bit on the quiet side, and will be remembered for his hot rod illustrations, high black boots and blue jeans.

CLIFFORD B. ROWLAND

Cliff

Cliff is a free-wheeling character who exults in playing his guitar, singing at sock hops and Hootenannys. Taking pictures (occasionally for the Mustang), writing intriguing poems about drag racing, and criticizing the Tempo and professional photographers seem to fill his time.

KATHLEEN BRENT SANDIDGE
Kathy

With her freckles and short, short hair, Kathy always has a smile on her face and a "Hi" for everyone. She is usually quiet, and is a hard worker-especially at sewing. Kathy is known for always asking everyone about her homework assignments.

JEAN ELIZABETH SCHAFER
Jean

This year's most athletic girl, Jean looks most natural with a baseball bat or a basketball in hands yelling to her team to get a move on it. She delights in typing tests for teachers and in running a taxi service into Georgetown.

ROBERT H. SCHLEEPER
Bob

Although he is rarely seen around the GM campus, Bob, when present, is as friendly a person as one can meet. He is active in Hi-Y and plays in the Vista band group. Bob is one of the best liked of all GM students.

SANDRA L. SECRIST
Sandi

Princess Winnipoo, as she is called by her friends, often gives exciting slumber parties, twirls her baton at appropriate occasions, and generally tries to avoid the unpleasant reality of schoolwork.

PETER B. SHAW
Pete

Pete drives a "horrible" green car with a candy cane stuck on the sun visor. (Wonder who put it there?) He likes baseball and "is quiet and friendly to those who know him." (He is really quite friendly to everyone.)

ELIZABETH SHARON SHERMAN
Cricket

Cricket is proud of the fact that she is one of the shortest Seniors in the class. Suffering from a bad case of Senioritis, she is usually proclaiming something for the Senior Class or complaining about the underclassmen. Cricket, since her arrival at George Mason in the ninth grade, has always been active in clubs and class projects.

LINDA FAYE SILVERSTEIN
Linda

Linda's leadership of the Senior Class has brought it to new heights. The Senior activities have been successful and she can feel confident that she had a major part in many projects like Black and Orange Day, that will become tradition. Most of all, she is known for her love of talking; and how we all enjoyed the news quizzes she wrote for the Lasso!

HARRY WILLIAM SIMPSON
Harry

Harry enjoys cooking, horror movies, and cross-country. He was hampered in the latter this year, however, as his legs gave him much trouble, and he could be seen limping through the halls for several weeks. Harry is quite talkative and is the first to begin many a friendly conversation.

MARILYN BARBARA SKUBAL
Skub

Miss Wittiest has proved that her humor can overcome any situation, and it has often been seen in the pages of the Lasso. Her hard work on the class dances has been rewarded by the fact that they were "well done".

PAULINE LA VIERNE SLADE Cookie

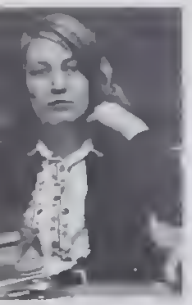
Cookie, who has the distinction of being one of the busiest girls in the class, especially enjoys two facets of her existence-the business courses at GM and a boy named Ron.

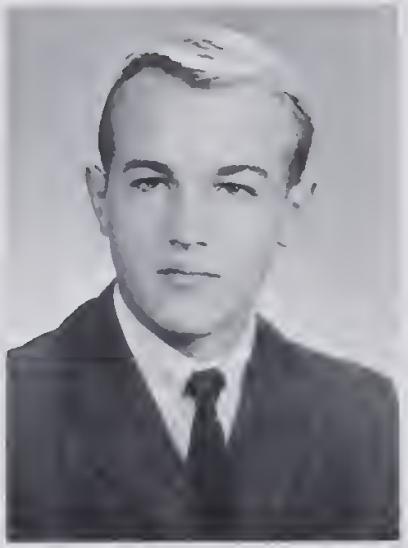
KATHLEEN F. SMITH
Kathy

A VPI fan, Kathy has a terrific sense of humor and a carefree attitude toward life in general. She is a member of the Choir and an active supporter of the "abolish school committee."



SHARON P. SMUTZLER
Sharon

Sharon is an independent type of individual and quite Bohemian with her long silky hair, big purses, and numerous rings. She came from North Dakota last year but now considers herself an established resident of Georgetown.



JAMES F. STEINER
Jim

Mr. Best All-Around (also known as "Mr. English Leather") is a suave and witty man-about-town who likes to dress collegiately and draw cartoons on his notebook. The "crowning moment" of his career came as Christmas Dance King.

Jack

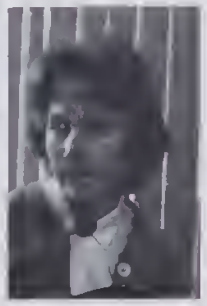
Jackie is the boy with the fast feet and a smile to match. Active in cross-country, basketball, and track, his one ambition is to beat Merle Valotto in the mile. He always has time to stop and talk to fellow Seniors or even an occasional underclassman.

SALLY ISOBELLE STRATTON
Sally
Sally's most obvious characteristic is her friendliness, as attested to by this year's class vote in which "Red" came out on top as the friendliest girl. We know she will be most successful in life, as she receives limitless inspiration from Russian History and those infamous words "The 'reds' will conquer"!

WARREN W. SULESKE
Butch
Warren devotes most of his time to cars and Joan. He will be remembered for his stubborn pride in his green '56 Ford, his wide friendly grin, and his yen for pestering girls in class.

NANCI CAROLINE SWARTHOUT
Nanci
Nanci is 14" shorter than Dean, but that doesn't seem to hamper their dancing style. Her hair arranged differently every week, Nanci is a good sewer who frequently whips up new additions to her wardrobe.

SUSAN JANE TABOR
Susan
Susan of the tiny feet and fuzzy sweaters is an accident prone girl who drives a Peugot. She nearly lost her sanity while trying to decorate the cafeteria for Homecoming, but went on to greater heights as a member of the Lasso crew.



TOI WRIGHT TEETERS

Toi

Toi is a very energetic little tiger who is constantly on the move. She has gained renown in the band for playing a Glockenspiel that is taller than she is. While running for SCA corresponding secretary, she won votes by standing on her American history book (to see over the podium.)

H. DEAN THOMERSON

Dean

Dean uses his height to good advantage on the basketball court and in putting up bulletin boards for Mrs. Disney, but hasn't yet found any use for his big feet.

DIANE ELAINE TILLMAN

Diane

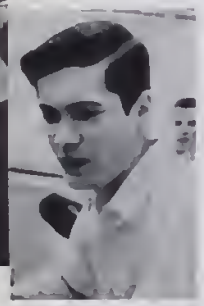
Diane loves to play basketball and to talk. She is of an outgoing nature as reflected in her many nicknames- Diedi, Tillie, Teigne...

RONALD M. TINKHAM
Tink
Ron and his "nude Stude" have established a reputation for crazy antics, often involving the use of novel piece of electronic equipment such an an "oogha horn" at a basketball game. Ron, in working at the hobby center, has easy access to such materials and is likely to continue in these pursuits.

CAROLYN PATRICIA TURNER
Carolyn
6th period lounge...ties... madras...long blond hair...Olin (Allen)...with the little window in back...Carolyn.

JUNE TURNER
June
June is tall "a la Susie Parker." She is new to GM from O'Connell. The FTA is important to June. Chemistry is her "favorite" subject.

ROBIN LYNN UHL
Robin
Although seemingly quiet and calm in school there are reports that Miss Uhl leads a different sort of life at her Cobb Island vacation spot.



MERLE WILSON VALOTTO
Merle

= k...n...o...w...n
= b...e...s...t = a...s
= a = r...u...n...n...e...r,

Merle will be remembered by many at GM as a blur on the cross country course or on the track. Elected the friendliest of Seniors, most will recall this aspect of Merle's "diversified personality".

CLAUDIA MARIE Van der HEUVEL
Claudia

"The Mouse" spends her life scampering around from one activity to another. Sitting on piles of books to accompany the choir, begging for more ads as the valued business manager of the Mustang, and VMI occupy her time. Her favorite saying is "At this point I couldn't care less whether I have my English paper done or not."

PAUL MATERAN VICK
Paul

Paul plays in the Vista Band group and is also a member of the audio-visual staff. A radical conversion toward the colligiate-look caused Paul to have his first hair-cut in years.

DIANA ELAIN VINES
Perky

Perky...the 4D's...horses and sewing..."into the wild blue yonder"...rather independent... Perky.

STUART GREGORY VOGT
Stu

Creative war stories...blood... gore...excellent cartoon drawings, good sense of humor...(another Bill Mauldin?)...Stuart.

SARAH CAROL WALLACE
Carol

With her contagious laugh and yellow pillow, Carol can usually be found sitting in the library lobby in the afternoon giggling and chattering about her ballet or her baton twirling or, often, about how hungry she is.

LLOYD DOUGLAS WALLINGFORD
Wally

Doug has a sawed-off yellow school bus in which he jogs around Falls Church, and a bass trombone which he plays in the Redskin's band. His skill at dancing, his lack of success at growing a beard, plus his cheerful outlook on life, distinguish Mr. Wallingford.

ROBERTA MARY WALTER Bobbi

Bobbi has made a career out of the AFS program during a summer in South America; Bobbi is usually seen in a frantic state of panic, worrying how to keep up her good grades or to better rule the FHA.

MARY ANNE WARREN
Mary Anne

Mary Anne is a slim sprite who enjoys growing crystals, writing, and drawing. A true artist, she delights in drawing cartoon characters on her English papers and sketching teachers during class. For years she has labored hard on beautiful covers for the yearbook, always rejected (until this year) by the editors. As co-editor of the Tempo, she has put her artistic and creative writing talents to work.

DENNIS B. WASSMANN
Dennis

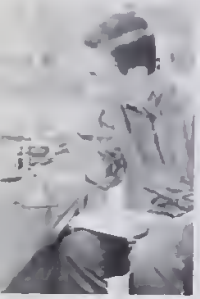
Dennis drives a bug-like auto, enjoys painting megaphones for cheerleaders, and playing football. Through all this he sustains his inherent easy-going manner and calm disposition.

RICHARD B. WATERFIELD
Brooklyn
Known as Brooklyn, perhaps because of his origin and tenacious accent, Bob bides his time during weekdays praying for snow like the rest of us or looking forward to a weekend across the river.

BRUCE R. WELCH
Bruce
Bruce is the tall fellow who made a tremendous improvement in cross-country and helped the harriers to win the championship, placing 12th in the state. He is friendly and loquacious.

LAWRENCE M. WHEAT
Bucky
Buckwheat has the pure and simple spirit of a country boy, always chewing gum, a friendly and straightforward attitude toward his classmates. He claims a background of surfing, and is known for running cross country barefoot.

ANNE RITCHIE WILLIAMS
Anne
Better set against the greenery of magnolia trees and azalea bushes, Anne is a misplaced Alabamian. Nevertheless, she has done remarkably well in the cold Yankee environment, showing them the light of leadership and cooperation and Confederate determination when fighting the Mustang photography staff.

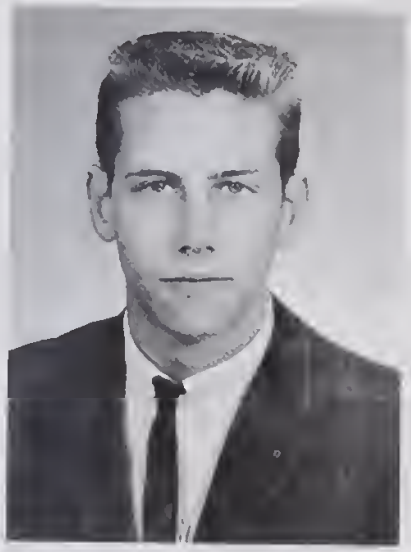


SARAH HALLMAN WILLIAMS
Sarah

As President, Sarah works hard behind the scenes of the International Relations Club, averting international crises and entertaining guest speakers from Lower Slobbovia. Sarah also enjoys wearing black knit stockings and playing golf.

SCOTT DUNCAN WILSON
Scott

Scott is the "D" of the twin Scotts. "Freckles" presents a shy and naive image and always seems to sleep through class, but then turns up with good grades through some magical process. Scott is remembered for his loyalty toward good old Worcester Tech and his "excellence" in cross-country.



SCOTT EDWARD WILSON
Scott

Good dancer... girls at Marshall... a "friendly moo...", Chief Wilson, only intelligent member of Mrs. Disney's 3rd period English. (He uses escape tactics out of The Stranger.)

JOYCE CONSTANCE WOOLSEY
Joyce
The Senior Class's talent, Joyce achieved a place in the National Ballet Company; she is an intense worker, often very witty and usually seen with a flashing smile. As Christmas Queen she proved to be an excellent representative of the Senior Class.

RICHARD FRANCIS YEARY
Rick
Rick has a near perfect record in attaining his objectives. He does well in basketball and baseball and is known for his many witty comments.

BARBARA LAURIE ZIESES
Barb
Ba-ba, with long black hair and shinning eyes, is always willing to lend a hand to help someone. She has distinguished herself in FTA, as the courageous Keyette treasurer, in enduring Spanish for 4 years, in being faculty editor of the Mustang for three years, and as Mr. Brown's Trig "Powerhouse."

COLOMBIAN HOLIDAY

Bobbi Walter took off from Miami airport on June 14, 1963 for a nine-week stay in Bogota, Colombia. The eleven-member Alfonso Castilla Saiz family, none of whom could speak a word of English, treated Bobbi to a marvelous round of bull fights, pre-dawn parties, Latin dance lessons, tours of coffee plantations, and beach parties. She remembers varied impressions of orchids growing wild, the free atmosphere in the schools, and chaperoned dates, but most of all the vitality and friendliness of the Columbian people.

Reminiscing with pancho and Latin records.

Bobbi answers the call of a wild Latin beat.

"With all this loot, I think I'll start my own open-air market."

SUSIE

Susie sells AFS Christmas cards.

Most of our seniors and many other G.M. students have had the privilege of knowing Susie, the tiny Thai from the East. Her delightful personality, characterized by her optimistic Siamese attitude toward any new life experience, has aided many a troubled senior facing a difficult Government test.

Susie has given several demonstrations of her native folk dancing, unequaled in western culture in its beauty and grace and has further enriched our cultural experiences by sharing with us her knowledge of life in the Far East. Susie is one senior we all shall be sorry to lose.

A MILLION DOLLAR PRODUCTION, A CAST OF THOUSANDS

Queen Gloriana XII reigned for two regal and hilarious days last November when the Senior Dramatics Club and Mr. Maher staged a three-act play, "The Mouse That Roared." The cast was honored with the illustrious Mr. Millan as Secretary of State and the superb acting of J. P. Finley as Minister of Grand Fenwick. The Duchy of Grand Fenwick, Dr. Kokintz, and company succeeded in capturing not only the Q-Bomb, but also the enthusiasm of the two-night crowds. Most cast members accepted their success lightly, in their spare moments playing football with the Bomb back stage.

FOOTBALL '63

THE MUSTANGS. . . whether in pouring rain or eighty degree weather, were in there trying. Hampered by the loss of men in key positions due to graduation and injuries, this has been a year for rebuilding. Positions were switched and new players trained. The result of the experiment has not been as good as was hoped; the Mustangs ended the season with a 2-6-1 record.

With better facilities, equipment, and plans for a new football field in the making, the Mustangs can do nothing but improve.

CROSS COUNTRY '63

One of the most outstanding of our new activities this year has been our G.M. cross-country team. Starting the season with no coach and almost no experience, the team's chances for survival appeared slim. There were, however, fifteen eager boys willing to work. The material was available, but leadership was lacking. Finally Mr. Stacy Siders, the elementary school physical education instructor, volunteered his time to help them in their efforts.

The team stumbled through the beginning of the season lacking organization and losing meets. Then things began to pick up. Our infamous rival, Falls Church, was barely edged out 26 to 28 and then came the state meet in Williamsburg. When six determined boys journeyed to the colonial capital, they were optimistic and yet dared not hope for more than they thought possible. We all know what happened; those same six retumed to G.M., State Champions, 1963.

Leading G.M.'s roundballers in scoring this year was Gary McBee who averaged 17.7 points a game. With only four seniors leaving the team this year, the Mustangs can look forward to an older and maturer team next season.

JUNIOR VARSITY BASKETBALL SQUAD

George Mason's J.V. basketball squad surprised every-one this season by turning in an outstanding record. In league competition, they lost only three games out of twelve starts. With such a record as this, prospects for future varsity teams seem good.

TRACK

The Track Team is track at its sportsmanship, leadership, and physical endurance best. Under the able leadership of Coach "Apple" Siders and Captain Merle Valotto, our track squad did everything it could to bring victories to G.M.

Milers and short distance men especially gave a helping hand to the team's wins. The team sprinted, poled, jumped, and putted to victories becuase they had spirit and were determined to win.

WRESTLING TEAM

Left to Right: Jim Matson, Tom Cotner, and Bill Albaugh.

Another new sport introduced this year has been wrestling. The team, consisting of only three boys, Bill Albaugh, Jim Matson, and Tom Cotner, made its first appearance at the District Meet in which they made a fine showing but won no honors.

This new sport was brought into existence at G.M. under supervision of Mr. Dudley who has taken an interest in intramural basketball as well as intramural wrestling.

INTRAMURALS

A program of intramural sports has become a major part of this year's extracurriculum activities. Offering football, basketball, tennis, volleyball, deck tennis, and wrestling, the program extends to the student body an opportunity to participate in many different forms of athletics. Mr. Siders, Mr. Dudley, and Mrs. Humphreys have given much of their time and energy to insure the success of the program.

STUDENT COUNCIL

Prexy Doug Lind's dynamic white-tennis-shoe administration steered the SCA toward better school government through the use of his mathematical ingenuity and an improved constitution.

The SCA put out a new handbook and directory and issued a less popular report, that condemned the "nasty" habit of smoking. In December, the SCA presented a handsome plaque to the school in memory of the late President John Kennedy.

SENATE

Not commanding as much power as in former years, (with the horrendous Wednesday morning doldrums eliminated), the Senate has acted primarily as a go-between for the SCA and the student body. Members conducted the sale and distribution of handbooks and student parking permits and also informed their homerooms of current SCA affairs.

KEYETTE CLUB

This year's Keyettes led a frantic existence collecting their monthly service points and struggling to uphold the excellent service record of their club.

Under Judy Herndon's calm and collected leadership, the Keyettes finished a year of collecting pennies on Halloween for UNICEF, working at the Cerebral Palsy center, and selling lilies at Easter. Becky Riley's puppet show and a jolly Mr. Howell as Santa Claus made their annual holiday parties for retarded children successful.

Among the most interesting activities, certain members declare, were attending the terrific Keyette convention in April and trying not to talk back on Maid and Butler Day.

KEY CLUB

Under John Finley's "brilliant" leadership, the Key Club went on as usual selling cokes, Unicefing, and obtaining free Xmas trees for the school lobby.

Pete Shaw, believing basketball to be one of their skills, bet money on the Key Club-Faculty game, only to see the gallant Key Clubbers lose by two points (due to Mr. Brouliette's sneaky defense.)

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

Pictured are National Honor Society members, some in trance-like states, some hard at work reading the racy plots of college catalogues. Serious President Laurie Overby is engrossed in the sad story of Tufts, while Maxene Galkin is obiously deeply affected by a description of campus meals. Claudia Mouse alone finds humor, in the course curriculm of Fink College. Disregard Machiavellian dictator at left supervising some illicit glue sniffing.

Besides collecting college catalogues, the Honor Society promotes and encourages academic endeavor and has done much to inspire other GM students.

INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS

The International Relations Club, eomposed of Mr. McBlair's exelusive eirele, has eontinued its program of shrinking the world. President Sarah Williams worked diligently to set up AFS week eonsisting of an assembly, at whieh Susie and other foreign exehange students talked of their native land, and a money raising drive to support next year's foreign students.

The elub also sponsored a series of three movies at which ALM students desperately tried to eateh snatches of French.

CHESS CLUB

Under Machiavellian calculator Lloyd Galkin, the Chess Club ruthlessly played its queens and bishops to greatest advantage. Sponsor McBlair encouraged their playing with his sly smile and profound, one-syllable comments—"Hmmm."

DEBATE TEAM

NEGATIVE TEAM

AFFIRMATIVE TEAM

The Debate Team, centering around the brilliant oratory of John Finley, Paul Jones' masterful debating style, and Mr. Cormier's enthusiastic support, spent the year debating the merits of Medicare and discussing the "deportation question". ("Shall we deport all Italian-Americans or, black is black"). They attended a seminar at GW University in the fall, and went on to make numerous good showings at interscholastic tournaments.

FRENCH CLUB

Even though a projected winter voyage to French Tahiti did not quite shape-up, the French Club was not a total failure this year. The meetings, administered by the Ripley Regime, provided an opportunity for members to get together and observe parliamentary procedure.

LATIN CLUB

The newly formed Latin Club has attempted to bring Latin back to life by reviving the long gone "Ave" and "Vale" of Roman times. In typical Roman fashion, they celebrated Virgil's birthday and that Great Day April 21st with authentic orgies. Led by Consul Louise Ripley, it is said that beneath the floor of the Latin room, they have hewn a catacomb as a haunt for toga-clad members.

SPANISH CLUB

The Spanish Club this year attempted to outdo even the ALM characters in their Spanish-style fun. Through a series of projects like a trip to the Ballet Folklorico of Mexico, Spanish pinata parties, and a Spanish dinner complete with hot chili and Walter Mallory's guitar, members sought to familarize themselves with Spanish customs.

The club started a Spanish Honor Society, with emphasis on scholarship and service, which added another presidency to Judy Herndon's flourishing collection.

SPANISH HONOR SOCIETY

SENIOR DRAMATICS

The Senior Dramatics Club's two plays were extremely successful this year, even though the Lay family has graduated. In the fall, Mr. Maher directed the amusing "Mouse That Roared". At rehearsals, players learned their lines, besides playing football with the bomb between acts. In the spring the club put on a one-act play, previously entered in several dramatic contests.

BIOLOGY CLUB

The Biology Club explored the world of frogs and formaldehyde. Their dissection projects thus far have been successful, and word has reached the yearbook staff that some (like mysterious member on far right) are contemplating more ambitious dissection projects in the future, but we are unsure who the victim will be. (Possibly naive member second from right.)

MATH CLUB

The Math Club tackled new and challenging problems in the "exciting" realm of mathematics. Armed with slide rules, logarithmic tables, and pocket-sized computors, they delved into regions feared and avoided by many a GM student and could be seen at meetings mumbling trigonometric indentities and arguing over the merits of Euclidean geometry.

SCIENCE CLUB

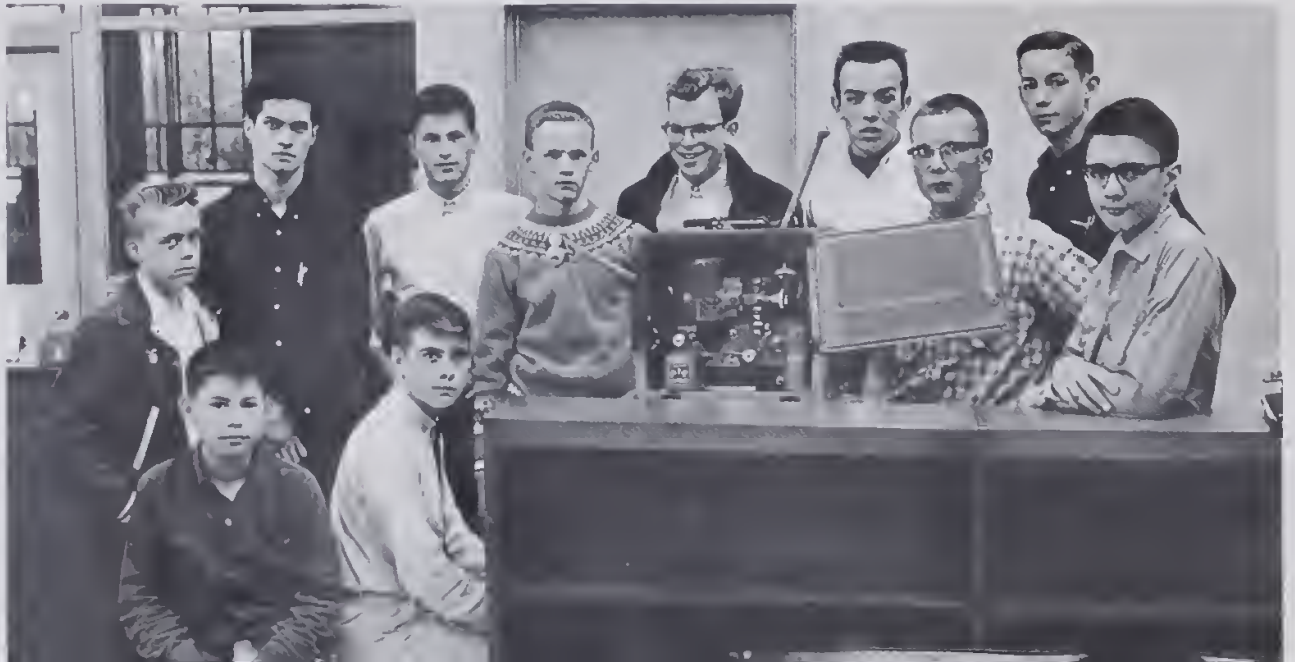
Surprisingly, the Science Club's purpose is to have a better understanding of science. Projects proposed: a planned flight to Mars in a weather ballon, an attempt to orbit Mr. Layton in a used Freedom 7 capsule, and a plan to distill alcohol from old erasers; the club also hopes to widen its horizons in the field of bio-chemistry.

SCA ART

Under Dr. G. Elizabeth McDowell, and Stu Vogt, co-directors, the SCA Art Committee stapled their way around the school covering vacant bulletin boards with 12" gold and purple letters and filling display cases with everything from watercolor landscapes by art students to trophies.

AUDIO-VISUAL

The members of the Audio-Visual staff, with headquarters in the library, spent much of its time trying to get the large green projector through doors, and then showing film strips and movies to classes. When off-duty, staff members enjoyed the luxury of wandering through the library.



FUTURE NURSES

Under the direction of our new nurse, Mrs. Melichar, the Future Nurses continued bandaging the burns of careless lab students, applying disinfectants to careless shop students, and trying to force tongue depressors down the throats of boys who unknowingly wandered into their den. During their clinic periods, the girls welcomed refugees on study hall library passes into the nurses's office as a break in the monotony.

The FHA had an active year of dinner meetings, where guest speakers demonstrated the poufing of one's hair, how to cook chicken-peanut soup, and how to weave Beatle wigs. Members also practiced the art of setting banquet tables and arranging prickly-pear branches in a pleasing arrangement, both so essential to the future homemaker.

FUTURE HOMEMAKERS

FUTURE TEACHERS

In the fall, FTA-ers spent two days at the grade schools observing and teaching, and reported that one big problem was retaining dignity among fifth graders while playing a game of kickball wearing a straight skirt.

In other projects, the girls filed papers for teachers and held meetings where guest speakers spoke on teaching. ("The high point of the evening was usually the punch and cookies.")

TRI-HI-Y

The Tri-Hi-Y has been a club in the background this year—accomplishing the traditional, but adding nothing new. After all, what can any club do with unannounced, bimonthly, ten minute, after school meetings.

HI-Y

The Hi-Y conducted a Christmas and Easter food drive for a Salvation Army family and sponsored three Dress-Up Days. By holding a paper drive, a carwash, and a dance, they earned money for a scholarship fund to be presented to a senior boy.

MUSTANG

The Mustang room during 7th period was a hectic jumble of people shouting, arguing, and occasionally getting something done: Co-editor Laurie Overby panicking over the latest crisis; calm co-editor Parry Pierce sitting in a corner drawing layouts; temperamental literary editor Robin Lauriault yelling about a red page in the theme section; the sports section chanting about a finky photographer; Claudia Vander Heuvel business editor, despairing over the latest financial loss; Janice Johnston singing Thumper; and Mrs. Disney declaring the black cover was an ill omen, indeed.

Below, Peter Shaw of the rival Lasso can be seen conversing with the Mustang's literary editor. Pete was occasionally admitted to the Mustang Room attributable to his quiet and friendly qualities.

LASSO

The Lasso staff spent 6th period daily searching out obscure stories, making up initials like R. U. S. H. and R. H., and sneaking articles past the censor. The addition of more humor in cartoons, news quizzes, and Paul Weed's articles made the paper a monthly reading habit.

John Finley, the Lasso's "brilliant" editor, began a rivalry between the Lasso and Mustang, by cunningly getting the Bowl America ad and continually hissing co-editors of the Mustang.

TEMPO

The Tempo staff under Editors Mary Ann Warren and Kathleen Mulcahy, put out two issues this year. Containing material written by students on such diverse subjects as drag racing and the meaning of religion, Tempo was much appreciated by the student body as not only a means of expression, but as enjoyable reading material.

BAND

The new director, Mr. Wynn, led the concert and reserve bands through a year of half-time marching parades, three programs, and constant sessions of practicing "Czech Rhapsody", "Ballet Parisian", and other pieces. Aside from Mr. Wynn's observation that it was the first time he'd ever seen "percussion supported by the band", the band continued its excellent musical accomplishment this year, with members attending All-State Band and the Band Festival.

The marching band, led by drum major John Finley, strutting with his nose held high, mastered numerous routines (occasionally, however, the march line looked like a very sick snake.)

Jay Hanke, the student conductor, led the band at several assemblies and pep rallies, where the band members sometimes were lucky enough to play something besides "Our Boys Will Shine Tonight".

CHOIR

With verses of "Red Wing" and "Deo Gracias" reverberating through the music room, Mr. Howell and his groups sang their way through the school year. After becoming used to four boys in the Girls' Chorus and Judy Herndon and Jana Hahn singing tenor in Mixed Chorus, the choirs mastered their music and put on three concerts, attended Choir Festival, and sent singers to All-State.

Peggy Ewalt excelled as student director, and Claudia Vander Heuvel accompained on piano, sang in every choir, and led the Choir Council.

TRI-M

This year Mr. Howell realized his longtime dream of a Tri-M chapter at George Mason. Tri-M stands for Modern Music Masters, who are chosen on the basis of musicianship, scholarship, and participation in the school music program. Claudia Vander Heuvel, the chapter's president, planned a series of trips to noteworthy musical concerts and shows.

SCHOOL STORE

The School Store opened up this year in a new and more spacious location. Selling numerous copies of Plato, the Prince, and The Bear, as well as the usual ink cartridges and wide-lined paper, the store sold an unusual number of world atlases for a short period, but after the government geography test, the market for atlases went back to normal; and business continued on as usual.

SPECIAL INTERESTS

The Special Interest Club is composed of a group of students who enjoy sharing their sometimes rather unique interests with others of similar disposition. Members performed a service to the school during the period of mouring in November by putting black crepe on our homeroom flags.

TUMBLING CLUB

The Tumbling Club, part of G. M. 's new beat, is composed mostly of younger students. The group kept in shape by doing handsprings, headstands, pyramids, and other acrobatics feats.

PEP CLUB

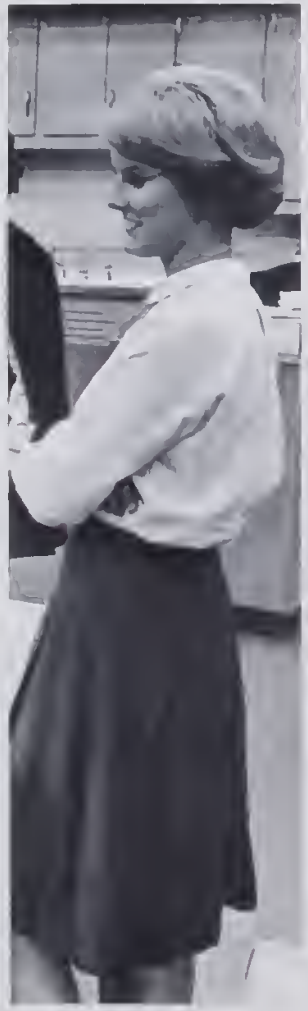
The Pep Club maintained their usual production quota, making pep posters at the rate of two hundred a week At meetings, Linda Edwards directing, thirty or forty girls worked with squeeky magic markers in the creation of such jubilant and optimistic phrases as "Stomp Hornets" and "Squash St. Stephans." Susan "Pancho" Graham was often seen making funny little signs for over the gym doors, while Cathy Tackney could be seen hanging by her toes taping posters up in unlikely places. Even after all this exertion, Pep Clubbers had energy enough to sponsor a Red and White day, put on pep rally skits, and of course blare forth in support of our teams at all games.

MONOGRAM CLUB

The Monogram Club promoted sports and the wearing of letter sweaters and varsity jackets by members. This year none of the members were pigeon-toed, only the Christmas tree donated for the lobby.

CHEERLEADING CLUB

The Cheerleading Club this year continued promoting cheerleading as a longtime career. Members met regularly to devise new and more intricate turns, snaps, and claps, and to exchange notes on how to look beautiful at pep rallies. The club planned to send several members to summer cheerleading camp, where they could learn even more intricate turns, snaps, and claps.



MAJORETTES

The Majorettes braved the fall cold at football half times to perform in front of the band for the crowds. Their intricate twirling routines spiced up several pep rallies plus the Cherry Blossom and Winchester Parades.

THE WORLD OF MR. WORLEY

The MUSTANG staff expresses the feelings of the entire school when we say that it is a pleasure having Mr. Floyd Worley as our principal. If you don't see him at least once during the day in classes or in the hall, he is probably not in school. One of Mr. Worley's practices is that he always finds time to confer with students and teachers about their smallest problems or laugh with them over daily happenings.

The guidance office is the student body's favorite roost. Why? Because of the air-conditioning! This new area is connected to the general office so that the office and guidance staffs can confer without fear of being trampled in the hall. Besides the new office there is also a new counselor for the seventh and eighth graders, Mr. Dana Dudley, and an extremely shy guidance counselor, Miss Margaret L. Kiley, who refused to be photographed.

This room is usually populated by three masters of the mimeograph machine who are often heard mumbling NQAAT* It has been distinguished by a special session of the Senate. In addition, U.S. History and Government classes meet here.
*News Quiz At Any Time

The Math department is noted for its advanced courses which include such things as learning to plot the graph of a person doing the twist. It also has the only known course that conditions a student to answer $\sin^2+\cos^2=1$ when asked his name. The SMSG Algebra and Geometry courses and the Math Analysis course continue to highlight the program.

Three new lab rooms have been added to the school for the seventh and eighth graders' enjoyment. The labs might be new, but the worms still look the same. The one improvement made for the senior high was having the gas outlets in the old biology room unplugged, and those ancient, abandoned science fair projects removed from the shelves to make room mainly for drawers of loose corks. Mrs. Rooney's room is still status quo.

LANGUAGES

The new typing room is equipped with new electric typewriters and modern desks. The typewriters are so efficient that a new teaching method has been introduced, "No Touch Typing." All students need do is look at a key for results. When failing to adjust the seats properly, students are given an unexpected ride. This jolt usually shakes the student up so much that when he looks at the typewriter it immediately spells out, "Ya did it again, sucker!"

Just past the gym, you can often smell a wonderful aroma. Following your nose brings you into the home ec. room where you are likely to find girls learning to be master chefs. The only misfortune is that home ec. students cook for only a part of the year. Sewing, which is their main undertaking, produces the anguished cries of students who have carelessly run the needle through a finger, or stuck pins in themselves instead of the garment under construction. A new popular course, Senior Sewing, has been added to the curriculum. College wardrobes for next fall are nearly completed.

HOME ECONOMICS

Shop is noted for its sturdy windows, empty first aid kit, and superabundance of splinters. In addition, shop is G. M.'s undiscovered gold mine. The school would probably be an immediate success in the toothpick producing line. At the moment, the biggest seller is all different sizes and shapes of bookshelves which students find convenient for their collection of comic books.

One of the new features in this year's gym classes is the brand new gym floor. It is a great pleasure to be able to see a shiny floor instead of one that is scuffed, bashed, and full of holes made by invading, hungry termites. In order to keep the floor looking so spectacular, everyone is required to wear either rubber-soled shoes or walk barefoot. During assemblies, a tarpaulin is spread over the entire floor to protect its shiny surface. In addition, gym facilities have been expanded this year—there is an auxiliary gym, locker rooms, and new equipment. The girls no longer have to exercise on stage while the boys use the entire gym floor.

FRESHMEN

Feeling a greater awareness of George Mason and its individuals... having a class attendant at formals...
going to night functions... cheering for your own J. V.
basketball team and football team...
where your locker was...
giving your class' first real dance...
a white Christmas... watching your friends grow up...
"May I have your attention for the morning announcements?"... the end of the beginning...
Can you ever forget them?

Far left: "Four score and seven years ago...

Middle: This picture just goes to show that six out of eight Freshmen play it cool when a camera is pointed at them.

Below: The sirens of the ninth grade compare notes.

This class is a chuckle! (according to Karen H.)

SOPHOMORES

Learning to be a real upperclassman... making the most out of weekends...
finding out how precious a friend can be...
trying to raise money for the '65 Prom...
discovering the excitement of a good conversation...
Biology and dissecting...
where was your homeroom,
and who was in it...
the last year of gym...
study hall...
watching time and your high school days slip by... really belonging to the clubs you joined...
You must not forget these few things...

The Sophomores have somehow gotten through their grueling year spent enduring the horrors of the classroom, cheering vigorously at games, and sitting quietly in the library.

JUNIORS

Discovering that this is the fullest year of all... class rings...
missing last year's Seniors...
hootenanny...
watching underclassmen repeat your own history...
Christmas Dance...
Civil War lectures...

History with Holton, Mac, Willy, or Carrington... what you did or didn't do
New Year's Eve... being Varsity
the Sweetheart Dance... the Variety Show... college boards...
the PROM!!!at last?...
the beginning of the end...
These things will live in your memory.

Left to right: JACKIE WOOLSEY, Class Representative; BARBARA MARKS, Secretary; NANCY ROE, Treasurer; TOM WHEELOCK, Vice-President; SARA EDMONDSON, President.

Top: Junior girls somehow manage to keep up a constant line of communication with. . . Junior boys?

Bottom: Steve: "Don't mind Frank. He always cries at these touching assemblies."

"... and what do you want Santa to bring you for Christmas?"

Rick and Steve study ancient pre-Worley woodcarvings left on quaint old desk.

Class of '65 studies Civil War maps intently, trying to determine the exact position of Mac's entrenchment.
